Jacob Daniel Kohl, a 1952 University graduate, was among 179 enlisted men receiving commissions in the Naval Reserve at the navy's Officer Candidate School in Newport, R. I.

The Officer Candidate School has a present enrollment of 1,500 which is expected to reach 2,100 by October of this year.

Want A Job? Notify UECB Office In B-G

Although few summer jobs are available for summer school students, Ohio Unemployment Compensation Bureau officials comment that college students are often needed for "spot jobs" which last for a few days or even a part of a day.

Students who wish to obtain summer jobs, either full or part time, should register at this office. If a person is registered, he is called when job opportunities become available.

A bureau spokesman commented that though the employment future is poor at present, part-time jobs may turn up at any time.

The Unemployment Bureau is located at 245 N. Main, phone 5051.

National Jewish Group Offers Essay Contest

A nationwide contest for the best essays by college students on "The Meaning of Academic Freedom," sponsored by the National Council of Jewish Women, will net $5,000 for winners.

Detailed instructions and rules regarding formal preparation and submission of manuscripts will be issued at the beginning of the fall semester. The contest is designed to give students an opportunity to air their views of freedom on today's college campus.

First prize is $2,500 for the winning 2,500-word essay. Other prizes are $1000 for second, and $500 for each of the third, fourth, and fifth place winners.

Two Professors Get Doctorates During Week

Two members of the University faculty received doctors' degrees last week. Wayne R. Bohrnstedt, associate professor music, received the degree of doctor of philosophy Monday from the Eastman School of Music at the University of Rochester.

William S. Wagner, assistant professor of education, was granted the degree of doctor of education by New York University Wednesday.

Dr. Bohrnstedt, faculty member since 1947, previously has received two degrees from Northwestern. One of his compositions, a symphony, was played by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra during its concert at the University last year.

After five years at Bowling Green, Dr. Wagner has resigned from the University faculty. He has accepted an appointment as director of student teaching and principal of the Laboratory School at the Oregon College of Education. His previous degrees were granted by Bowling Green and Ohio State Universities.

Official Announcements

Persons enrolled in Journalism 206 or 396 and any student wishing to work on the NEWS should attend the staff meeting scheduled for Friday afternoon at 1:30.

Students who will be candidates for degrees at August graduation should make application for graduation in the office of the registrar, according to Glenn I. Van Wormer, registrar.

Persons who will be eligible for teaching certificates upon completion of summer school are requested by the registrar's office to make applications for these credentials in that office.

Pianist Opens Artist Series In Auditorium Tomorrow

Russell L. Danburg, associate professor of piano at the University of Florida, will present the first of the Summer Session Artist Series programs at 10:15 tomorrow morning in the Main Aud. All summer programs will be held at that hour on Fridays and classes have been arranged so that students will be free to attend the concerts which are open to the public.

Mr. Danburg's program, entitled "Music for Fun and Enjoyment," has become popular throughout the country since its composition of classical favorites, original compositions, improvisations, and humorous satire appeals to many varied tastes.

The program to be presented here includes classical works such as "Grande Polonaise Brillante in E Flat Major" by Chopin, "The Girl With the Flaxen Hair" by Debussy, and "Jeux de Fau" (The Fountain) by Ravel.

The pianist's original compositions will include "Steam Calliope," "Piano Pugilist," "Reluctant Reveille," and "Dress Parade."

An unusual feature of the program will be improvisation on five notes to be given from the audience.

Mr. Danburg received his bachelor of music degree from the Lawrence Conservatory of Music, Appleton, Wis., and continued his training at the Eastman School of Music. Dr. Howard Hanson, director of the Eastman School, says that Mr. Danburg is an "excellent pianist, splendid musician, and a gifted composer." Further training was obtained through private instruction at the New York Juilliard School of Music.

During three years in the army, the composer was in the Music Division of the Special Services and directed various concerts and shows. He also appeared on a weekly radio program and gave many programs for the Red Cross, band rallies, and U.S.O. benefit shows. He received a commendation in 1945 for his service in the entertainment field.

In addition to his teaching at the University of Florida since 1948, Mr. Danburg has made numerous concert appearances in the West, Middle West, and South. In 1938 he toured eight European countries where he entertained with programs of American music.

Summer Chorus Begins Rehearsals Tonight At Seven

Tonight's opening rehearsal marks the beginning of the sixth consecutive Summer Chorus, according to Dr. J. P. Kennedy, director.

Open to all members of the community from high school age on, the choral group will meet each Monday and Thursday evening at 7 p.m. in the P.A. Aud.

Anyone wishing to join should telephone the music department (34274) or Dr. Kennedy (7383) and leave their name and the part he sings.

Music will be furnished members of the group and each person enrolled may gain college credit amounting to one-half hour toward degrees.

A public concert on Friday evening, July 25, will culminate the rehearsals. No rehearsals will be held during the last week of the Summer Session.

Enrollment Figures Show Slight Loss

Summer Session enrollment was 144 less than last year's total of 1,056. Late registrations will increase the present figure of 912, but it is not expected to reach last year's enrollment, according to Glenn I. Van Wormer, registrar.

The number of new graduate students is lower than in previous years, though the total figure for the Graduate School is approximately the same for the eight-week session.

Conversion courses for teachers planning to go into elementary education have made a comparatively large registration number in the College of Education.

University Prints New Photo Publication

A viewbook to be sent to new students is a newcomer to the group of publications now being put out by the University. The book with a striking chartreuse and black cover came off the press of the Wood County Republican Printing Company this week.

Containing many pictures of campus scenery and University life, the book was edited partially by five students. They are Mary Jane Gustin, Angela Genevieve, Anne Huston, John Grossman, and Howard Hahn.

The new viewbook will serve as additional material to such things as the Freshman Handbook which also was completed this week.

Committee Appoints NEWS Editors

FRANCES COE

Editors of the B-G News have been announced for the summer and winter sessions by the University Publications Committee.

Frances Coe has been selected for the summer editorship and Jerry Klever is editor in chief for the 1952-53 paper.

Both of the new editors served as issue editors last year as well as working on the staff previously as reporters and copyreaders.

Both are senior journalism majors, Miss Coe in Liberal Arts and Klever in the College of Business.

Also announced by the committee are Marilyn Lindsey as yearbook business manager and Dan Baker in the same position on the winter newspaper. Prof. Russell N. Baird is adviser for the summer paper while Prof. Robert A. Steffes serves in this capacity during the fall and spring semesters.

JERRY KLEVER

In Our Opinion

Twofold Job

Printing a newspaper for the Summer Session is always a new and sometimes a difficult situation for undergraduate students since the audience during the summer is of such different caliber from that of a regular fall and spring session.

The editorial staff will try sincerely to refrain from making material in the News too elementary for the enjoyment of the many graduates who are back to work on further degrees during the summer. At the same time, our duty toward undergraduates makes it necessary that the paper contain some lighter material.

Unlike other years, this summer's News will not make use of the suggestion box method for gaining student opinion. It has been our experience that such devices tend to emit nothing but orange peels, paper scraps, and other miscellaneous materials more generally found in garbage cans or wastebaskets.

Instead, we hope to receive letters to the editor as a more successful means of obtaining ideas, information, and opinions from students. As is stated in the policy of the News, these letters must be signed as a prerequisite for being printed.

Statement of Policy

Newspapers always have a policy to which they closely adhere. We take this opportunity to present the policy of the Summer Session News in the hope that our readers will find it more than dry reading. It defines the principles by which the paper will be run.

The stand taken on an issue and the contents of any article dealing with that issue, will be decided upon by the Policy Board, consisting of staff members. In matters of extremely controversial material, letters representing both sides of a question will be presented.

Letters to the editor must be signed in order to be published and must meet the approval of the Policy Board, subject to the decisions of the University Publications Committee. All submissions will be considered as outlets for student opinion.

The News will be free to print all matters of interest to the student body so long as such material meets the ethical standards of the best newspapers and will make every effort to make coverage as complete, fair, and accurate as possible.

Read Of Studious Sal; The Moral To The Story Is Optional

The philosophy behind this poem will be immediately apparent to the reader. Whether or not he cares to agree with it is strictly up to him. In any event, it was printed originally in the Northeastern News, Northeastern College, Mass., and we reprint it here without further comment.

Now, studious Sal from Southern Cal—
It must be admitted, was quite a gal;
She knew her math and physics, too,
And with each year her knowledge grew.

With angles obtuse and circles round,
Sal could cover academic ground.
Latin, Spanish, even Greek,
She did a semester in less than a week.

Her marks were known throughout the school,
And Sal would never break a rule.
Though promise of work was right nearby,
Down in the mud was her chance for a guy.

In social circles Sal wasn't advised,
So she went to a doc to be analyzed.
She wanted to know, and she wasn't coy,
"Why the heck can't I get a boy?"

"You're terribly smart, your chem is great,"
The doc replied, "but before it's too late,
Forget the stuff that comes in books,
And use your brains to improve your looks.

"When you are with Einstein out in space,
It's clear you overlook your face,
Instead of reading Roman tales,
Why not polish and trim your nails?"

"Instead of looking for calculus tips,
Why not paint and shape your lips?
Go out of doors, acquire a tan,
For after the sun will come a man."

So Sal did what the doctor said;
Now she wishes she were dead.
Although dates each night have become her rule,
Her marks dropped so low, she flunked out of school.

July 2, Geer Says

Freshmen and new student orientation days will begin July 2, according to the office of Ralph H. Geer, director of admissions. Fourteen other dates have been selected for similar programs.

Although few new students have sent registration cards to the office, 72 already have signed up for the date of July 26.

During the day each student will have an opportunity to arrange for housing, take health examinations, speech and hearing tests, have activity card photographs taken, take academic aptitude tests, choral tryouts, meet academic deans, have individual conferences, and make out schedules.

Students' parents will be able to meet both the academic deans and the dean of students, Arch B. Conklin.

Movie Fans This Summer
Luckier Than Ever Before

BY JIM LIMBACHER

Movie fans in Summer School will be luckier this year than ever before as they will have an opportunity to see many more films.

For campus movie fans, there will be two movies each week end in the University Auditorium Fridays and Saturdays at 8 p.m.

This Friday the old favorite, "The Phantom of the Opera," will get the summer series off to a roaring start with Claude Rains, Suzanna Foster and Nelson Eddy in Technicolor. The music is superb, the color very beautiful, and the falling chandelier and the unmasking of the phantom are still tops in thrills.

Saturday evening, the Social Committee will show a revival of Will Rogers' most famous film, "David Harum." The film should be enjoyed by this generation as well as by those who remember and loved the great philosopher.

For those interested in the history of movies and how they looked 50 years ago, the Cinema Club is presenting a special series of film showings throughout the summer beginning Tuesday evening at 7 p.m. in the Lecture Room of the Chemistry Building.

The series begins with movies made at the turn of the century when the movies were still in their infancy. Those who join the series will see the first trick film, "Execution of Mary, Queen of Scots," filmed in 1898; "Washday Troubles," a comedy (?) made in 1896; the immortal "The Great Train Robbery" made in 1903; the forerunner of the Lassie films, "Rescued by Rover," filmed in 1906; a 1910 science-fiction thriller, "Possibilities of a War in the Air" and the great Sarah Bernhardt in "Queen Elizabeth" made in 1912.

All these films will be shown Tuesday. You'll never regret this chance to see rare movies of a past era.

Other campus movies to look forward to during the summer include "The Baker's Wife" (in French); "Canon City," the story of the Colorado prison break; "Lives of a Bengal Lancer" with Gary Cooper; "Once Upon a Time" with Cary Grant and Janet Blair; "Passport to Pimlico" (British); "Captains Courageous" with Spencer Tracy and Freddie Bartholomew; "Tulsa," in Technicolor with Susan Hayward; John Steinbeck's "Of Mice and Men," with Burgess Meredith and Betty Field, and "The October Man," a British murder mystery.

More next week.

Several Special Programs Now Being Offered During Summer

Concurrently with the Summer Session, there are a number of special programs being offered. Both those giving college credit and those not affording credit are being offered.

Non-credit programs include a communications institute to be held June 20 and 21. This two-day institute is offered as an area public service to both educators and professional persons in communications.

A school administration conference to be held July 11 and 12 will focus its attention on the "Functions of the School Administrator and the Board of Education Member in Public School Relations."

Among the programs carrying college credit is an art workshop, June 24 through 27. It is designed to give teachers the opportunity to achieve a broader scope of art education in the use of materials and the planning and teaching of school art through actual participation in carrying projects through to completion.

A driver education course during the first two weeks of the Post-Summer Session is designed for teachers who will be asked to conduct driver training programs in a high school. This course gives college credit.

An elementary workshop which began June 9 is open only to those not registered in the regular Summer Session.

Advisers and student members of high school publications staffs will meet together and separately in a series of workshop sessions dealing with practical problems of school newspapers and yearbooks.

The department of special education of the state department of education, the University, and the public schools of Bowling Green will cooperate in offering a workshop on the slow-learning child July 14 through Aug. 1.

Another course offered during the regular Summer Session will provide work in speech and hearing therapy for both the public teacher from June 9 through Aug. 1.

A special course in trends of public education during the regular Summer Session will bring many outstanding national leaders in education to the campus.

Week End Offers Movies, Concert; Dance Scheduled

The summer social program opens this week end with a schedule of two movies and an Artist Series program.

Russell L. Danburg, pianist, will present the first concert of the Artist Series for the summer in a Friday morning program. All summer concerts

Tomorrow night students may attend the first campus movie, "The Phantom of the Opera," "David Harum" has been selected for the Saturday night film.

Three orchestra dances are scheduled for the social calendar during the Summer Session, according to Miss Eloise Whitver, summer social chairman.

In addition to orchestra dances, square dancing will highlight the week-ends of June 28, July 11, and July 19.

The orchestra dances are scheduled for June 21, July 12, and July 26.

There is a possibility that bus trips to the University Summer Theater in Huron, Ohio, and to Toledo plays and concerts may be arranged. Picnics are also on the tentative schedule.

Falcons Compile Winning Records

Falcon athletic teams turned in winning seasons this spring with only one exception, according to statistics released by the athletic department.

Of the four spring sports, only tennis produced a record showing more losses than victories in the 1952 season.

The baseball squad won eight out of eleven games played, two of which were forced into extra innings. Among the Falcon victims was the Ohio State JV squad, which dropped all three of its encounters with Coach Warren Stellar's diamondmen.

Losses were to Ohio University, Hillsdale, and Kent State.

Coach Dave Matthews' track team compiled a record of four victories and three defeats by winning over Ohio University, Detroit, Kent State, and Cincinnati and losing to Western Michigan, Michigan JV, and Baldwin-Wallace.

In its only triangular meet, the cindermen came in second behind Albion and in front of Bluffton.

The golf team split its season evenly with four wins and four losses while tying two. Included among the victories were conquests over Michigan Normal, John Carroll, and Northern Illinois.

In eight matches, the tennis squad was victorious in only two. Its victories came over Michigan Normal and Lawrence Tech.

Results of the spring sports season follow:

Jerry Omori Leads Falcons In Batting With .426 Average

Bowling Green's 1952 batting championship has been won by Jerry Omori of Hawaii who completed the season with a .426 average.

In 47 times at bat, the Falcon second baseman knocked out 20 hits. He tied third baseman Glenn Matter for runs-batted-in with 13. Matter was runner-up in batting on Coach Warren Stellar's nine with a .386 mark on 17 hits in 44 times at bat.

Omori hit safely in 10 of the 11 Falcon games, missing only the Hillsdale game when he failed in four times. The junior infielder had four extra base hits including a home run against Wayne University.

Other hitting leaders were first baseman Phil Sekerchak, .348; outfielder Jack Carnahan, .325; and Eugene Bunger, .297. Sekerchak, with five triples and two doubles, led the extra base hitting.

program, predicts this year's program will be even more successful than the one that attracted 9,000 participants last summer.

This is the first year that the pool at City Park is being used along with University facilities.

In addition to the instructional program, the University provides for open recreational swimming during the Summer Session. A complete schedule of natatorium hours will be published in next week's B-G News.

Durig Ohio's Best

Fred Durig, Mansfield, was selected as the most valuable football player in Ohio last fall.

Durig, who played fullback for the Falcons, has one season left to play for Bowling Green.

Bowling Green's leading pass receiver in the 1951 grid season was Jim Ladd, who caught 16 passes for a total yardage of 236.

Jim Dysinger Wins Medalist Honors For '52 Golf Season

Medalist honors for the 1952 golf season were taken by Jim Dysinger, a Findlay freshman, with a 76.5 average for 12 rounds, Coach Don Cunningham announced today.

Dysinger also grabbed low honors for Bowling Green at the Ohio Intercollegiate tournament with a 157 for the 36-hole medal play, Cunningham said.

The Findlay golfer dropped only three of his 10 matches, winning five and splitting two.

Playing in the rugged number one position, Captain Dave Slough, also of Findlay, was behind Dysinger with a 77.3 average for eight matches. He missed two matches because of an academic field trip.

Other averages include Frank Kraft with 77.9, Dick Rodney, 80, and Bob Combs, 72.1.

The team had a 78.7 average in running up four victories, four losses, and two ties.

Browns At Hiram For '52 Training

One of the favorite recreational pastimes of Summer Session students at Bowling Green won't be available this year.

Students who have enjoyed following the training camp activities of the Cleveland Browns professional football team in the past will notice their absence this year.

The Browns have selected Hiram College as their training site for the 1952 season.
